JANESVILLE, SATURDAY, APRIL 12.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR.

In conformity with law, I, William D. Hoard, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do designate

Wednesday, April 30th Next, as Arbor Day, and recommend that all public schools and colleges of the state observe the same by suitable exercises, having for their object the imparting of knowledge of horticulture, and the adornment of schools and public grounds.

It is testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be hereunto affixed. Done at the Capitol, in the city of Madison, this 15th day of March, A. D. 1890.

WILLIAM D. HOARD.
By the Governor:
ERNEST G. TYLER, Secretary of State.

MR. BLAINE AND THE PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

There are some points connected with the Pan-American congress which are worthy of special interest to all Americans. There is one thing which it has done which shows that it has the true spirit of civilization about it. It has laid the foundation for a treaty by which all differences or disputes between Central and South America and the United States shall be settled by arbitration.

There is another point which received much discussion in the congress, and that is the question of subsidies to steamship lines trading between the two countries.

The Central and South American states are anxious to improve their commercial relations with the United States, and to this end are willing to do all in their power to grant such subsidies as will best promote reciprocity in commerce.

Just what the United States government will do, is difficult to determine. If the Central and South American states are willing to subsidize steamship lines, surely the United States, the richest nation on earth, should meet these countries half way in the effort to establish a prosperous trade between the two countries.

There is no nation on earth which has the wealth and the resources of the United States, and yet it has the poorest merchant marine fleet on the high seas. This is a humiliation and a shame and always will be while this country refuses to match the legitimate methods of other countries in establishing and supporting lines of steamers. It is hoped that the discussions on this point which have been going on in the Pan-American congress will inspire our own congress to do something worthy of this country.

Here is a report from Washington which shows the spirit of the congress touching the question of reciprocity:

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Pan-American congress has adopted the report of the customs committee recommending international reciprocity among American republics, each country to make the necessary tariff concessions. The majority in favor of the report was very large, although not unanimous. The report corresponds with Mr. Blaine's proposed amendment to the new tariff bill, but which the committee has not yet accepted. This makes a good start toward reciprocity and will greatly facilitate negotiations with separate states. Mr. Blaine has really made quite an impression in his new free trade role.

The only apology needed for the long sentence in the foregoing dispatch is that it was found in a democratic newspaper. But Mr. Blaine is right. He believes in a protective tariff as firmly as ever he did. But what he wants is that the new tariff bill shall be so framed as not to interfere with an agreement between the United States and Central and South America, on the reciprocal question. The idea Mr. Blaine has, and it is sound statesmanship, is to make the trading between the two countries as free as possible, to put on the free list such articles as we cannot fully export ourselves, in exchange for our productions which the South American states need and will take from us. This is a common sense system of trading, and it was to bring about this kind of commercial reciprocity that the Pan-American congress was called. Mr. Blaine wants to work in a practical way to enlarge our trade with South America, but the McKinley committee seems to work on the principle of hostility to anything like reciprocity in commerce. It appears to want the barriers between this country and Central and South America so high that they cannot be scaled by either country.

Some of our millionaires are having lots of trouble with themselves. William L. Scott recently said that he would give twenty million dollars for a good digestive apparatus, but he can't buy it, and so he goes on living a life of misery. Mr. Rockefeller, the richest man in the United States, carries about him a feeling of depression that an income of twenty millions a year will not remove. William H. Vanderbilt, when alive the richest man on the continent, never could rest for fear of sickness, and he bought more patent medicine than any other man in the country, hoping by this treatment to get rid of his imaginary physical troubles. But it was of no use. When he died, in the very prime of life, he fell instantly and died without a struggle. So all the great millionaires have a hard battle with life.

Our fellow citizen, ex-Lieutenant Governor Thad C. Pound, has written to a Minneapolis paper as follows: "If it is to be the policy of your journal to continue the publication of Talmage's alleged sermons without criticism you will please discontinue the paper to me. Such unpermitted, unmitigated nonsense cannot be excused in this country and age, and can only be promotive of mental and moral imbecility." This may be regarded as a little funny, but it would strike any one who knows Mr. Pound, that he might read Mr. Talmage's sermons with some profit. There is certainly a big chance for a good sermon to benefit the ex-lieutenant governor.

John Nagle, of the Manitowish Pilot proposes a convention at an early day of the principle of the Bennett law, even when they have to defy the authority of the Roman Catholic or the Lutheran church in taking this position. When it comes to me generally understood that what is aimed at by the law is only the use in all schools of the language of the land, there can be little doubt as to what will be the popular verdict.

These utterances are in strange contrast from the statement made by the Rev. Mr. Albrecht, that a public school is a place where "all children are molded according to a pagan and godless pattern."

THE STORAGE OF HUMAN LIFE.

The question of how to lengthen human life has been discussed by the scientific and medical men of London very recently. There was nothing new brought out in these discussions, except that the statement was made that one of the chief causes of early death—say between 25 and 40 years—is hereditary weakness. It is said that one-sixth of the people in England and the United States are unable to make a storage of vitality—as they store electricity in batteries for future use—because heredity has given them frail bodies and weak constitutional powers. Then the point of discussion centered on the question how shall the other five-sixths go to work to make a storage of human life, so that they can have reasonably full assurance that they will live—barring ruthless epidemics and unusual calamities, of course—to the age of seventy-five or ninety years.

It has been frequently said that if men and women took as much care of themselves as the more intelligent animals do, that they would live ten or twenty years longer; and even the Rev. George O. Haddock, who gave his life for the temperance cause in Iowa, once gave an address in Janesville in which he declared it his belief that if men and women would live according to the strict rules of temperance in all things, the average life would be extended above a century. To be sure this is not practical talk, but there is much in the suggestions of the London scientists on the storage of human life, that is worth serious consideration.

The statement is made that fully one-half of the deaths in Europe and America are caused by the violation of some law of nature, such as intemperance in drink, in eating, in exercise, in other indulgences, in dress, and so on. So long as these intemperate habits exist, there is an absolute prohibition of the storage of vitality, which is life itself. The rule the London scientists have prescribed for longevity, is such as is needed in all civilized countries—temperance and common sense in all things—and yet the world rushes on, even from bad to worse, so far as recklessness of living is concerned, and the death rate increases, of course.

Oshkosh has one of the most practical business men to be found in the state, and aside from this he is one of the most useful. He is well known throughout the state as G. W. Gates. He has been engaged in the manufacture of matches for a number of years and prosperity has been with him. Recently he has finished one of the most beautiful residences in Wisconsin, and one of the attractions about it is the great pipe organ which has been put in the reception hall of the house. It is as large as the ordinary organ of the kind found in the leading churches, and what is interesting about it is that Mr. Gates plays the organ himself, at which he is very skillful. One of his daughters plays the piano and all other members of the family are excellent singers, and so the concert given at the home of the Gates', not only shows uncommon musical skill, but are an honor to the family. Another feature about the musical ability of the family is that Mr. Gates, although he is an active business man, is the organist at the Baptist church, and in the choir as a son and daughter, who are among the leading singers of Oshkosh.

What is still more to the honor of Mr. Gates is that he is wonderfully liberal in his benefactions to the church. So long as he is on the land of the living and has his health, the Baptist church of Oshkosh will not lack for first class music and plenty of funds.

democrate to make a public declaration of their opinion of the public schools, and to relieve the party from the odium which "the so-called democrats" of Milwaukee would attach to it." He says many prominent democrats of the state are favorable to such a convention.—Sentinel.

It is not likely that such a convention will be called. The prominent democrats who believe in the principles of the Bennett law will be made to take back seats when the democratic convention is held. Their hope lies in the special advantages of the Australian ballot system.

It was a pleasant remark made by the Boston Globe, democratic, the other day on Speaker Reed, when it said: "With President Reed in the chair of state we should at least always have the pleasure of feeling that there was a quorum present in the country, ready for the transaction of business."

Wheat and barley have taken a sudden and very satisfactory rise. The cause of this seems to be the unfavorable report of the crop prospects in most of the states.

NEITHER FACTION YIELDS.

Sessions of the Two Evangelical Church Conferences.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Both Illinois conferences of the Evangelical association held sessions yesterday. Bishop Escher and his followers were at the Wisconsin Street church, and those opposed to him held sessions at the Sheffield Avenue church. An attempt was made to secure the records of the last conference by legal process from Secretary Stamm, who is with the ministers at Sheffield Avenue.

Constable Mueller served a writ of replevin on him just after the adjournment for noon. The Rev. Mr. Stamm said he did not have the books, and the constable had to go away without them. Although one of the delegates had them in the church. Service was accepted, and Secretary Stamm will appear before Justice Wheeler on April 22.

The Sheffield Avenue conference was called to order by the Rev. D. B. Boyers, who presided. After the usual devotional exercises considerable routine work was done. A resolution was then adopted deploring the action of the "belters" who followed Bishop Escher and declaring the offices in the conference held by any of those brethren to be vacant also that the "belters" should be considered members of the conference and amenable to it, and that those of their number who have been in the active itinerancy should be placed on the list as they have been before, but not given appointments unless they apply for them at the proper time.

The other conference, over which Bishop Escher presides, devoted most of its time to business and will get reports and elect officers as if there were no other conference. In the afternoon a committee was sent to the Sheffield Avenue meeting with a request that the records of the conference be given to them. The committee refused, and reported that the communication had been referred to a committee.

Bishop Escher announced that he had received word that at the Iowa conference yesterday the presiding elder at the trial of Bishop Bowman confessed that he had done wrong in deposing him. It was decided to hold the next conference at the church corner West 12th and Union street, beginning the second Thursday in April 1891. The Rev. S. L. Umbach of the Canada conference was received as a member. The Rev. J. Wellner was elected statistical secretary and the Rev. S. Schwartz financial secretary. The Rev. C. Schaefer was chosen trustee for three years of the Northwestern college. W. A. Vetter was granted a license to preach on probation.

SIX TENEMENTS DESTROYED.

Many Narrow Escapes From Death at a Kansas City Blaze.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—Fire, caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove, occurred in one of a dozen small tenement houses near the corner of Twentieth and Penn streets and destroyed six of them.

The wind was blowing furiously at the time and the flames spread with such rapidity that many of the tenants barely escaped with their lives. John Garvin jumped from a second story window and sustained severe injuries.

The three small children of Mrs. Harmon had been locked in the house when the mother went marketing and were rescued by the firemen. The loss is $10,000.

Chicago Men Sued for Damages.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 12.—Mary R. Arrington of Delavan commenced suit here yesterday for $5,000 damages against Thomas D. Wayne, Nathaniel T. Wright, Charles F. Nash and George Watkins, board of trade men of Chicago.

Mrs. Arrington says the defendants attached her property and tied it up for a year when there was no foundation for the action, the result being that she won the suit, and consequently she claims damages.

King's Daughters' Convention.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 12.—The State convention of the King's Daughters closed last night, after a session of three days, with a thanksgiving service at the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. Fred W. Clappett, of Springfield.

At the afternoon meeting at the Baptist church interesting talks were given by Miss Wells and Mrs. Emmons of Chicago. Miss Clara Ewing was elected State secretary, subject to the approval of the National Council at New York.

Sedalia Society in an Uproar.

SEDALIA, Mo., April 12.—Acting under Judge Ryland's instructions, the grand jury has issued subpoenas for a number of members of the "High Five Club," a tony social organization, among whose members are quite a number of young ladies. Judge Ryland's instructions to the jury to indict all persons engaged in or participating in a game of "euchre," "high five," or "church raffles" has created a great sensation here.

Jay Gould at Fort Worth.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 12.—Jay Gould and party spent the afternoon and evening in this city. Mr. Gould said that Attorney General Hogg, of Texas, would impede railroad building in Texas for the present year, but would have no ultimate bad effect on the state. He says the long and short haul clause of the Inter-State Commerce bill must be modified or the interior cities will suffer greatly.

Waukesha Bonds Sold.

WAUKESHA, Wis., April 12.—The village board yesterday opened bids for $25,000 of the $100,000 bonds for sewerage system. The Waukesha National bank offered the best figure of the eight bidders, and they were sold to that concern. They were issued Feb. 10, 1890. Ten twenty years and draw 5 per cent. The price for the lot was $36,150.50, in interest.

Take Care of Your Eyes.

Dr. B. MINNEN, the eminent oculist of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this county during the winter. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abused by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

STABBED BY A JUSTICE.

SOUTH CAROLINA EXECUTES A TRIO OF CRIMINALS.

The Several Crimes for Which They Sacrificed Their Lives—Bank Officials Indicted—Crimes.

COLUMBUS, S. C., April 12.—Three black criminals suffered on the gallows for their crimes in this state Friday.

Most notable of the three was Willie Leaphart, who committed an assault upon Miss Rosa Cannon, a pretty 16-year-old white girl. One Sunday night at Miss Cannon's home, her little brother was sitting alone in his little parlor at Lexington, the others of the family having gone to church. Leaphart suddenly entered through a window and demanded something to eat, saying if Miss Cannon did not give it to him he would blow her brains out. The little boy ran for assistance, and while he was gone the assault was committed.

Leaphart was detected half an hour later. He was saved from lynching by the determined attitude of the sheriff, who guarded him day and night with an armed posse.

A petition for his pardon was sent to the Governor, but the citizens of Lexington notified the executive that if pardoned Leaphart would certainly be lynched. The Governor refused to interfere with the sentence of the court.

At Mount Pleasant Charles Simmons was hanged for the murder of Otto Fischang. Simmons acknowledged his guilt. He had planned to rob Fischang's store, but was detected by Fischang, whom he murdered in the hope of escaping arrest for attempted robbery.

Bob Shelton was hanged at Bennettsville. He was convicted of the murder of a man who had accused him of being a barn-burner.

MURDERED BY HIS BROTHER.

An 11-Year-Old Lad Throws His Playmate Into the River.

New York, April 12.—John Costello, 11 years old, was charged in the Harlem police court with the murder of his brother Thomas, 9 years old. His father was the complainant. The latter stated to the court that the two boys went out together Sunday last and Thomas did not return. John said that his brother had parted from him on the street.

A gentleman who was absent from police headquarters, but the most diligent search has not availed to find the slightest trace of the boy. Yesterday the father was informed that it was common report that John and Thomas, with a number of other boys, were playing on the pier at the foot of West One Hundred and Eighteenth street Sunday and that they quarreled, when John threw his brother into the river and he was seen no more.

John denied the reports when questioned and was arrested last night. When arraigned no definite complaint could be made in the absence of witnesses, and the case was committed to the police for further investigation. The police are actively at work trying to unravel the mystery.

BANK OFFICIALS TO BE TRIED.

Groves and Harris, of the Defunct Commercial of Dubuque, Indited.

Dubuque, Iowa, April 12.—The United States grand jury has indicted President R. E. Graves and Cashier R. S. Harris, of the Commercial National Bank, which went to the wall about a year ago. The prosecution against these officers was instituted by banks in this vicinity, which held $257,000 of obligations against the Commercial.

The total amount of the bank's liabilities was over $500,000. An expert was recently sent to work on the books, and it was on his evidence that the indictment was found. It is charged that Graves had an overdraft of $8,000 in the bank, and that he falsified the bank's statement, both being criminal offenses. To permit these acts his cashier Harris, must have been a party.

Graves is now operating a bank in Arizona, and Harris is Cashier of the National Bank of Pueblo, Colo. Both of them will be brought to Dubuque to stand trial. The evidence against them is said to be strong.

What is a mercantile "discount?"

When a merchant buys goods of a wholesaler in the great city, he secures a reduction or "discount" from the bill, of from 5 to 25 per cent., according to the kind of goods he is buying and the margin of profit there is in them—IF HE PAYS CASH DOWN.

If he cannot pay cash down but remits in 10 days, he receives almost as much discount; if he pay not till 30 days, he receives still less discount, and if he pay not till 60 days he receives none. So the thriving merchant discounts every bill as it comes. But to do so he must have ready cash, and he can get it only as he receives it from customers, or as he loans it to himself as working capital. If all paid cash, they would furnish the merchant the ready money to take every discount; and just so far as they do not pay cash, in just so far as they compel the merchant to advance himself the money to pay his bills, which money he could put out at interest, and earn 6 or 8 per cent. on the loan.

We have now gone to the a-b-c of explanation of the discount business and why all merchants desire to change credit custom to cash trade. While it would be simple justice, yet they can not have two prices—one for credit and a lower one for cash; this would lead to ill-will, they must name the same price to all alike, and then, not as a gift or present but simply because it is deserved, they can make a favoring discrimination to the cash buyer.

Some of our merchants have made large purchases and special contracts for the great Encyclopedia Britannica, and propose to give to each cash buyer this work. They do not pretend to be "giving something for nothing"—such a statement would be false on its face; they are simply paying back to each customer his share of the discounts, in a commodity bought three times cheaper than any of you, buying singly, could get it. This is the philosophy and plan on which Messrs. Burns & Boland and A. C. Munger are enabled to offer an exact reproduction, page, word and letter, uncondensed and unabridged, latest revision of the great "Encyclopedia"—a faithful copy of the $216 Edinburgh edition, more durable than any book (save the Teacher's Bibles) to-day in your town.

They also have secured the exclusive privilege of sale, at a price which will astound you. Come and see.

SPRING CATECHISM.

You gave three answers of blood impurities, the second of which you said was digestive disturbances; will you explain why indigestion is more common in the spring? In the first place, it requires more food to meet the demands of the system during the winter months, and the digestive system has been taxed to its utmost and spring finds them exhausted and in need of a good tonic.

BRIEFLETS.

Both sprinkling wagons are out today.

Look out for the "cold wave" tomorrow.

The Evening Star club will give another party at Hibernia Hall to-night.

Dr. Coffey will be at the Windsor Hotel on and after Monday next for a week.

The prices of admission at the theatre this evening have been placed at 10, 20 and 30 cents.

The supper on Thursday evening will be especially good, at the usual price 25 cents including admission.

Reynolds & Matthews, the barbers, are making extensive improvements in their shop, on East Milwaukee street.

Those having invitations to the Beggar's Ball on the 16th can procure tickets from any member of the Fire Police.

The Odd Fellows and their families and invited friends will join in a social dance at Old Fellows' hall to-night.

George Clark who was hurt by the street car some time ago, is able to be out. He carries his arm in a sling though.

Only ten cents admits every one to the orange tree, while 25 cents pays the admittance and the supper also—don't forget this.

There are likely to be some very unique and artistic costumes at the Beggar's Ball next Wednesday evening. Even the orchestra will wear their old clothes.

The ladies of the First M. E. church gave a supper last evening at the church parlors. There was a great variety of good things which a large number enjoyed.

The common council will hold an adjourned meeting on Monday evening.

This will be the last meeting of the old board of aldermen, the new members taking office on Tuesday.

The current number of the Police News contains a picture of the Monroe P. O. Club, of Monroe, Indiana. Messrs. Kirk, Beeson and Buchanan, who formerly played polo in this city, are members.

D. D. you ever see an orange tree loaded with ripe fruit? If not, the ladies of the Rectory Society will be pleased to show it to you in their rooms in Kenilworth block on Tuesday evening, April 15th, 1890.

Dr. B. Mincer, the optician of Marion, Ohio, has been granted a patent on his trade mark, "World's Fair," which appears on his spectacles. The application was made through Mr. E. R. Iman, of this city.

The ladies of the Rectory Society have always been famous for their excellent success in cooking, but on Tuesday evening all the dishes will be benefited by the instructions of the cooking school. So come and taste how good everything will be.

A number of our patriotic citizens are endeavoring to work up a monster Fourth of July celebration for the coming month. A public meeting will probably be called shortly, for the purpose of taking preliminary steps for that purpose.

Perhaps Prof. Stewart can explain to the patrons of the public schools "why so few names appear on the roll of honor." Many of the pupils appear very, very lonely on that roll for the winter term, and many parents are very anxious to know why.

Marshal Hogan warns parents that they must keep their boys from using air guns and sling shots. These weapons have been the cause of a good deal of annoyance and broken windows, and the city ordinance forbidding their use will be enforced, and the boys will be arrested. A word to the wise, etc.

The Rev. A. J. Bartels, of Chicago, minister of the New Church (Swedenborgian) will preach in the Congregational church of this city on Sunday afternoon, April 13th, at three o'clock; also in the evening at the usual hour of services. All are cordially invited to attend.

The shoemakers of the city and their invited friends gave a very pleasant party last evening at Columbia hall. The attendance was very large, and the company kept time to the music of Tuckwood's orchestra until three o'clock this morning. All who attended pronounce it a very enjoyable affair.

H. G. Ooster, the enterprising proprietor of the City lively stable, received a handsome new ladies' phaeton this morning direct from the factory in the east. It is a beauty and no mistake, with spring cushion and everything for comfort. It is as low as any ordinary phaeton, but a much neater looking vehicle.

H. D. McKinney has sold to Philip Lonsley, of Onondaga, Barron county, this state, chestnut colt "Navigator," foal of 1888, sired by Sylva, son of Nutwood, his dam by Alden, (Goldsmith, for $600.

Mr. McKinney has also sold to Beecher & Osgood, Winona, Illinois, the bay colt "Henry Phallamont," sired by Phallamont, dam by Western Chief, for $1,000.

Last evening Miss Mabel Shawway entertained about thirty guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shawway, No. 405 Court street.

The party was in honor of Miss Ida Stevens, of Duluth, Minn. Progressive dinch was the chief amusement, and when the party broke up it was in the small hours of the morning, and all agreed that the hostess was a delightful entertainer.

As mystery seems to be the watchword just now, and lots sell better out of sight and unseen, the ladies of the Rectory Society have decided to sell their oranges in much the same way.

The tree loaded with fruit will be on exhibition from five o'clock until eight, and during that time the fruit will be sold, the price asked being attached to each orange, prices ranging from 10 cents to $1.00. Every orange contains the full value asked, so let no one confuse this with any lottery scheme.

GERMAN LUTHERAN SOCIETY.

They File Articles of Incorporation with the Register of Deeds.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the register of deeds for the "German Lutheran Society of St. John."

The objects of the company are "a religious society for charitable, religious and educational purposes." The articles are signed by Messrs. C. H. Knack, August Abendroth, Fred Vogel, August Strampe, O. Kneip and Max. Penning.

THE GAZETTE BOX FACTORY.

Now Ready to Manufacture Paper Boxes in any and all Small Quantities.

The Gazette Printing Company has added to their printing and binding establishment, a paper box factory for manufacturing paper boxes of all styles and sizes.

The "Gazette" Company, at great expense, has purchased several of the latest improved machines for this class of work, which are now in operation, located on the third floor of the establishment. The factory is under the supervision of Mr. W. E. Clinton.

Of the Gazette bindery, who will keep a number of competent hands employed in the best work possible. The box factory was set in motion last evening and a few sample boxes were made. These samples can be seen at the printing room of the Gazette office.

Persons interested in using paper boxes are cordially invited to call and inspect the same, and also to visit the factory and inspect the new machinery. It will be the aim of the Gazette establishment to furnish customers with the best grade of boxes in the market at the very lowest living price. The capacity of the factory is from ten to twelve thousand boxes a week.

BLOOD AND THUNDER.

The Boy Scouts at Lippin's Opera House Last Night.

A small, but very appreciative audience gathered at Lippin's opera house last evening to see Mr. F. K. Wallace in the "Boy Scout of the Sierras." The company is a very strong organization, and gave a good show. Mr. Wallace, as "Dan O'Rielly the Irishman," was very clever indeed, and kept the audience in constant good humor.

Mr. H. Coulter Brinker, as "Lightning Lew," was very good. Mr. Brinker is a fine looking young man and carried the audience by storm.

Mr. Wm. Frederick and Mr. Walter Carrell as the two "heavies" were as villainous as could be, and "both died in their boots," much to the edification of the "gallery" crowd.

Miss Mary Fitzgerald as "Mary Vale, the flower of Napa Valley," was exceptionally fine, and received loud applause. The balance of the company is very well proportioned, and the attraction, for the kind, is first class. To-night they play "The Boy Detective," which closes the engagement.

FOR ANY CASE OF NERVOUSNESS, SLIPPERINESS, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, try Carter's Little Liver Pills. Relief is sure. The only nerve medicine in the market for the money.

A CHARMING SOCIAL.

At the Home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. King Last Evening.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church and society gave a most delightful social and supper last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. King, No. 351 Court street. Supper was served from half past five until after eight and was partaken of by a large number. The menu was especially fine and amply sustained the reputation of the ladies of the church. Mr. and Mrs. King were delightful entertainers and when the guests dispersed it was with reluctance that they left the scene of such a pleasant evening.

OBITUARY.

The sad news has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. Fannie Pratt, formerly of this city, who she died in Rutland, Vermont, on April 4th, and was quite old.

Mrs. Pratt will be remembered by many people in the city. She was born in Janesville, February 22, 1859, and was therefore 31 years old at the time of her death. She leaves a husband and four children at her home in Rutland and four brothers and two sisters in this city. They are Messrs. A. N. Jones, Fred R. Jones, C. J. Jones, John H. Jones, Mrs. Henry Harris and Mrs. Wm. Hall.

Hold it to the Light.

The man who tells you confidentially just what will cure your cold is prescribing Kemp's Balsam this year. In the preparation of this remarkable medicine for coughs and colds no expense is spared to combine only the best and purest ingredients. Hold a bottle of Kemp's Balsam to the light and look upon it; it notices the bright, clear look, compare with other remedies. Price 50 cents and $1. Sample bottle free.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Noyes have returned from a three months' visit in California.

Miss Hat is Warren has returned to her home in Rockford, after a pleasant visit with Miss Mabel Hancock.

Mr. H. D. McKinney has gone to Kentucky and Tennessee on a business trip and will be absent a week or more.

Miss Daisy Chase left for Buffalo this morning, after a very pleasant visit with her mother, Mrs. Ouellet Moulter.

Dr. E. D. Roberts, of the firm of Roberts & Keller, left for Broadway this morning to attend a valuable horse.

Wm. C. Donovan, telegraph editor of the Madison Democrat, passed through the city this morning enroute for Chicago to spend Sunday with friends in that city.

Whitewater Gazette: William J. McIntyre, of Lima, and Mrs. Henrietta Worcester, of this city, were united in marriage at her home at 11:30 a. m. by Rev. E. O. Barnard. They took the 1:24 train for the east. Their future home will be on the farm in Lima.

Lake Geneva Herald: Mr. J. T. Powell, of Janesville, has bought out Gould & Day's bakery. He is a practical baker, and makes a most excellent bread, so Mr. Editor tells us. He comes here well recommended as a citizen, also and we are glad to welcome him to the business ranks of Lake Geneva.

Forced to Leave Home.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call at their druggists for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a FREE sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Everybody likes it. Large size package 60 cents.

BACKACHE IS ALMOST IMMEDIATELY relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weeds and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Try one and be free from pain. Price 25 cents.

FURNITURE FACTORIES.

The Hanson Manufacturing Company File Articles of Incorporation To-Day.

WILL PROBABLY ORGANIZE NEXT WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The New Plant Will Soon be in Full Operation and the People Will All Rejoice.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the register of deeds for the "Hanson Manufacturing Company."

The object of the firm as enumerated in the articles is: "The objects, business, and purposes of said corporation are and shall be the purchase of the M. Hanson & Co. plant located in the city of Janesville together with the machinery and water power connected therewith, and to engage in the manufacture of all kinds of furniture."

The name shall be "The Hanson Manufacturing Company," the capital stock $30,000 divided into six hundred shares of fifty dollars each.

No member shall own more than sixty shares of stock.

The articles are signed by Messrs. Clarence S. Jackson, L. E. Englebertson, W. B. Britton, Hans Troften, O. G. H. Fethers, Stengrim Trulsen and John W. Sel.

A call has been circulated to-day among the subscribers for the capital stock for a meeting of the stockholders at the common council rooms on Wednesday evening of next week.

Should this call be signed by the required number of stockholders, waving the ordinary legal course of giving two weeks publication of the notice in a paper, the company will be organized on Wednesday evening, otherwise there will be a necessary delay of two weeks in the organization of the company. It is thought that the call will be unanimously signed as there is a necessity for a speedy organization.

THEY ALL KNEW.

But Could Not Agree Perfectly on the Proposed Location.

There was quite a crowd of gentlemen sitting in a west side drug store this morning discussing things in general. After "talking politics" a while the conversation turned to the new furniture factories.

"I know where they are to be located," said one.

"What, the lots?"

"Yes."

"Well, where?"

"Down on the Robbins' farm."

"Don't you believe for a minute that they will be down there. They are going to be up on the Mele farm in the first ward."

"No they aren't. (They are going to be located west of Gold street up near the O. & N. W. Freight depot.)"

"No such thing; they are to be up on John Comstock's farm."

"I don't think so."

"I think that they will be on John J. R. Pease's lots in the second ward up on Bunker Hill."

"I say that they are going to be over in Black Hawk."

"No, they will be down by the water works pumping station."

The argument began to get hot. All the talkers left but the man who was in favor of

THE BEGINNING.

Mele's farm and the man who stood up for Pease's addition.

"Well, you're way off, anyway," said the Pease man.

"I am nearer right than you are, anyway," retorted the other.

"Well, what you can't know about it would make a big book."

"Better save your money."

The other made a hot reply that was lost in the air. It looked something like this: You don't know a thing about it!

Here the reporter also got out, but it is said that it is the way it ended.

No. 111 Washington Street.

JANESVILLE, Wis., April 11, 1890.

To Whom it may Concern:

While attending the Janesville Seminary since its opening, my daughter has made most excellent progress. The school seems to me rather expensive, but I can heartily commend it.

WILLIAM F. BROWN, Pastor of the Presbyterian church.

I consider that my daughter, Mabel, has learned more in the Bishop Welles school and with far less mental strain than ever before, during the same length of time.

A. E. SHUMWAY.

APRIL 10th, 1890.

To the Promoters of Bishop Welles School:

My daughter, Fredericka, has attended the Bishop Welles school for the last three terms. I am glad to certify that the results of teaching in this school is to my full satisfaction and a great benefit to the education of my daughter. I have the honor to remain

Very respectfully, MAX FERRING.

To the Promoters of the Bishop Welles School:

I take pleasure in expressing my high appreciation of the work done in the school under your charge. I cheerfully commend it to those having daughters to educate.

Yours truly, A. A. JACKSON.

My daughter has been in attendance at the Bishop Welles school since its opening. I consider it a very good institution worthy of the liberal indorsement of all citizens.

Respectfully, J. M. BOSTWICK.

To Nervous Debilitated Men.

If you will send us your address, we will mail you a small pamphlet explaining all about Dr. Dyke's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and Appliances, and their charming effects upon the nervous debilitated system, and how they will quickly restore you to vigor, and make you a healthy man. If you are thus afflicted, we will send you a Belt and Appliances on a trial.

THE WEATHER.

For Wisconsin—On Saturday, Fair, Followed by Sunday Night by Rain or Snow; Sunday, Followed by Sunday by a Decided Fall in Temperature.

High Southwest Winds, Gale on the Lake. Cold Wave in Western Portion.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 61 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind.

At one o'clock p. m. the register was 63 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 42 and 42 degrees above zero.

What it Costs

Must be carefully considered by the great majority of men, in buying even necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparilla combines itself with special force to the great middle class, because it combines a positive economy with great medicinal power. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said "100 does one dollar," and a bottle taken according to directions will average to last a month.
